Dear Jalaine,

I was very glad to get your most informing letter. You don't know what it means to get a letter from home.

I just got back from chow and am laying on my bunk thinking of home reading over and over my letters. I have written about 30 letters now and have received 5, four of them from dad.

You should see me in my sailor uniform. Better still you should see me wash it. What a hell of a job.

I went to church Sunday and was it a flop of all the serious religions. You may not realize it now but your 3rd hour class will be remembered all your life. I would like to take one more year of seminary and not play around so much.

Well lights out in 5 minutes so have been hurrying hope you can unscramble this writ.

Dear Jalaine,

I have been moved again. This time to a field about 10 miles from town of Corpus Christi. There are three big hangers here and about 1000 airplanes. There is a gym, show house, ship service, swimming pool and everything here. It is just like a miniature city. There is a bus stop here to go to town and I make that trip about every 4 days.

I'll bet the kids like the idea of working instead of going to school. That would be fun. Is school going to be dull this year. Can you have night dances and do you get out of any classes for assemblies.

How long will it be before it snows. I don't expect to see any snow this year. Nor any mountains there isn't a mountain in the state of Texas.

Have you noticed I am trying out a new style of writing trying to follow your pattern.

Tell the folks hello and tease Ardeen for me.

I wish I could have you wash my white uniform but I guess you couldn't do it good enough to suit me. Remind me when I get home to show you how to wash and iron my rolling.

Well will close, I am waiting for answer.
